

As much as I hate
that the experience of child loss is so
common,
I am also thankful for
the companionship
and community I've found with fellow
bereaved parents
like you.

Thank you
for being one of the good parts of
my new world.